So you think you have Pilates mastered?

Pilates machines offer even more chances for specialized training!

Utilizing various machines adds emphasis to working out your arms, legs, hips, back and dares you to increase flexibility. Classes can also include blasts of cardio, to make it an all-encompassing workout. Or experience a circuit workout and utilize several pieces of equipment in a session. This is a fun and effective way to sculpt and gain strength, while keeping your body guessing and adapting to the new movements.
